MT. PLEASANT—Ann Haskell, sophomore theatre arts major at Central Michigan University, recently was elected CMU's homecoming queen over a field of 15 contestants. The results of the all student election were announced at the traditional Queens' Breakfast at the University Center Wednesday, Sept. 18.

Haskell, a former Miss Grayling and a member of the National Cherry Festival court, is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Haskell of Grayling.

She is a member of the cast for "This Was Vaudeville," an original student written musical to be presented at CMU Oct. 1-5. She is also a member of the Oratorio Chorus for the CMU production of "The Messiah" in December. An avid skier, she hopes to join the University ski team this winter.

Members of Queen Ann's court are: Nancy Terry, Clinton sophomore; Sally Wanberg, Paw Paw junior; Denise Haltenbach, Buchanan senior; and Sharon Thurston, a junior from Pigeonville.

The queen will be crowned by CMU's president, William B. Boyd, during halftime ceremonies at the homecoming game Oct. 19 between Central Michigan University and Western Illinois.

Crawford Co. Historical Society

[By Sal Truettner]

The Crawford County Historical Society has a wonderful loan from Non Peknik, "The Classic Novelty." This is the stove that her father "Milt" used when he cooked the lumberjack breakfasts during the Centennial in 1972 and also for the Min Town festival this year. The stove was built in 1865 in Michigan and is 100 years old. It weighs 468 pounds. It was shipped to "Tavern City on Lake Michigan, then by ox cart to the Grayling area.

The previous owner of "The Classic Novelty" was the late Mary C. Gajdak of the AuSable Hotel in Franken, which was open in 1877 and is still operating today. The stove is in perfect condition and "Milt" has promised he will make some hand-picked breakfast for the society next year. Thanks so much Non!

The Museum will close Saturday, October 12th for the season. Anyone wishing to take their things home before the closing can get them on the remaining opening days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 2nd, 4th and 5th and October 10th, 11th and 12th.

LMPOA Retain Attorney In Bear Mountain Legal Dispute

[Special to the Avalanche]

Directors of the Lake Margrethe Property Owners Association met Saturday, September 26th and concurred an agreement with Attorney Peter J. Vellenga of Gaylord, to continue to represent the Association's interests in the Bear Mountain legal dispute now in Federal court.

The Association entered the case a year ago following a ruling by the late Federal Judge Stephen J. Roth that the property owners were entitled to intervene to protect their interests. The suit was initiated by the State of Michigan to re-assert its ownership of the Hanson military reservation acreage being used by the Bear Mountain resort complex, adjacent to Lake Margrethe.

Since the death of Judge Roth last Spring, the case has been reassigned to Federal Judge James Harvey, who held one conference in August with attorneys for the interested parties, to begin familiarizing himself with the issues.

Association directors reaffirmed to Counsel Vellenga the basic concerns of the LMPOA: that operation of the resort should be restored to non-profit community control and not left in the hands of private investors; and that private housing on public land, represented by the Pine Knoll Trailer Park, be abolished.

Directors said the continued presence on state land of permanent house trailers at the Pine Knoll installation, under leasing arrangements that the State Attorney General has publicly stated are illegal, sets a dangerous precedent for similar private exploitation of military reservation land on the Lake Margrethe shoreline, or of other public landholdings anywhere else in the state of Michigan.

In other business matters affecting the membership:

The Board has been asked to point out to members and other property owners on the northwest bay of Lake Margrethe, that the County Road Commission is considering a proposal to run an access road from the State Campground near the Lake outlet directly to M 72. This would minimize some of the traffic currently using routes to the campground through the Portage Heights and Harbor Beach subdivisions, in the McIntyre's Landing area.

Property owners may express their views on the proposal to the County Road Commission, 320 State St., Grayling, 49738.

The Board has been advised that an individual property owner may not of his own accord close a road across his property that has been used for public access for years and has had maintenance provided by public services. The issue was brought up at the last membership meeting August 31st. To close such a strip of road, the individual owner must circulate a petition among adjacent property-owner users of the road, and carry his case to the Township Board.

Chris Keillor, Semifinalist In Merit Scholarships Award

Principal Kent S. Reynolds has announced that Chris Keillor, son of Mrs. Peggy Keillor has been named a semifinalist in the competition for about 3,400 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1975.

The Merit Program Semifinalists are the highest scorers in each state on the 1973 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT/NMSQT), administered to over one million students in about 17,000 schools nationwide. The Semifinalists, most of whom will complete high school and enter college in 1975, will be identified to nationally accredited U.S. colleges and universities. Many semifinalists find this recognition useful in gaining admission to the college of their choice and in obtaining financial aid.

According to Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), "The approximately 15,000 Semifinalists represent the top one half of one percent of the nation's most academically talented young people. The students bring honor to themselves, their families, their schools and their communities."

Zoning—A Local Decision

By Willard Bosserman, County Extension Director

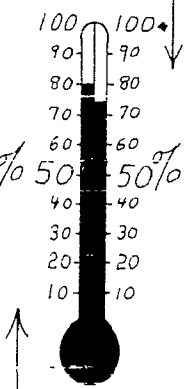

"Do your planning and zone now," urged Col. Joseph A. Parisi, Executive Director of the Michigan Townships Association. He spoke at a meeting of Michigan Township officials, Thursday, September 26th held at Shanty Creek.

Parisi gave townships fifteen minutes in which to do so. His time table was based upon his belief that either the State and/or the Federal government would pass land use laws within the next year and a half. Townships, then, he believes would have less voice in local land use decisions.

I have always tried to sell land use planning on the benefits derived by the local people. I never like to use the State and federal government intervention as a threat, but on the other hand it is a definite possibility and townships should take a realistic view of the situation. Parisi also expressed a pre-

Bear Moves Leather to Niles Plant

The heavy demand for Bear Archery equipment that has been taking place recently has the Grayling based manufacturer bursting at the seams. Sales increases of over 40% in each of the last two years are placing increased demands on the available production space.

Alan E. Beatty, Executive Vice President of Bear stated, "Frankly, we've simply run out of room in our Grayling plant in which to expand and have found it necessary to move our Leather manufacturing operation to a plant that the Corporation already owns at Niles, Michigan. Our Bowstring manufacturing is also located in Niles."

Company spokesmen report that the space gained from the present Leather manufacturing area will be used primarily for the expansion of the Bow Department.

Tom Little, present Supervisor of the Leather Department, will manager the Niles Leather operation.

New Kind of Thinking

Putting much of the blame for the inflationary problem squarely on Capitol Hill, President Ford has pledged himself to work for reductions in government spending and a balanced budget by fiscal 1976. He has asked the American people, in their own interests, to support candidates for public office who "...consistently vote for tough decisions to cut the cost of government, restrain federal spending and bring inflation under control."

This is a tall order, but it can be done with the people's support. There must also be public support for changes in the tax laws that will encourage the kind of investment necessary to modernize industrial plant and equipment and expand development of our energy resources. This is the only route to greater efficiencies of production and larger supplies of goods and services in the marketplace. There must be incentives to encourage individuals and organizations to put their savings to work through investment in productive enterprise. As things now stand, U.S. tax laws penalize such capital formation to a further extent than any other major developed nation. A successful investor in the U.S. must figure on paying in taxes over one third of any increase in value which he may realize from the sale of securities or other assets. By contrast, such countries as Japan, West Germany, France and Italy—among our major competitors in international trade—either have no capital gains tax at all or rates that are much lower than those levied against ordinary income.

If domestic private investment annually is to reach the level of $300 billion projected by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics as essential for the nation's economic health by 1980, some major changes will have to be made in the nation's tax laws. President Ford has asked for the cooperation of Congress and the American people "...in getting this country revved up and moving." If this job is to be done and inflation controlled, it will take a new kind of political thinking when it comes to deciding on levels of federal spending and designing tax reform legislation.

Ridiculous Idea

The Federal Trade Commission reportedly believes that the advertising media should somehow be required to protect the consumer by investigating the validity of claims made in advertising copy. According to "Editor & Publisher" magazine, many newspapers do check ads for general truthfulness, accuracy and fairness. But broadcasters and publishers can hardly be required to run tests on all products they advertise. Editor & Publisher reports that the New Jersey State Court of Appeals has "...ruled that magazines, newspapers and other publications cannot be obligated to guarantee products they advertise."

This is a step in the right direction. The consumer still has an obligation to use a little common sense and judgment in the marketplace. If he does not, the advertising media cannot be held responsible for his foolishness.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

From Calvary Baptist Church

On Your Grandchildren in Slavery?

Behavioral technology is deceptive terminology for human slavery. As an answer to the growing violence, rebellion and other deviate behavior within society, Psychology is offering a scientific approach to resolving the problems. These views are currently being circulated in a popular paperback entitled "Beyond Freedom & Dignity." The author is extremely intelligent, and has an outstanding reputation in the field of Psychology. If you are deceived into accepting the basic presuppositions of such scientists, your grandchildren will live in slavery.

Man, according to these scientists, is neither basically good or bad. He is the subtool of his genetic inheritance and his environment. Therefore, these men believe man can be changed by changing his breeding practices and his environment. These men believe men can be controlled in the same manner they control rats and mice in a laboratory maze. Should behavioral technology become accepted within our society, behavioral scientists will dictate and control society within a few generations.

These men believe man is "a naked ape" who has evolved from a lower form of animal life. To them "a god is the archetypal pattern of an explanatory mind, of a miracle-working mind, of a metaphysical." In other words, God is just a concept of man's mind. Moral values are only the product of man's culture. There are no absolute moral values. To them, man is not responsible for either the good or the bad which he does. He merely responds like a machine according to his internal genetic makeup and the environment in which he must function.

Concerning the solution to man's problems, these men believe, "It is science or nothing, and the only solution to simplification is to learn how to deal with complexities." C. S. Lewis protested to this kind of thinking: "The power of man to make himself what he pleases... means... the power of some men to make other men what they please." To this argument B.F. Skinner replied: "This is inevitable in the nature of cultural evolution."

"My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments: For length of days, and long life, and peace, shall they add to thee. Let not mercy and truth forsake thee: bind them about thy neck; write them upon the table of thine heart: So shalt thou find favour and good understanding in the sight of God and man. Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths. Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the Lord, and depart from evil." Proverbs 3:1-7.

Traverse City State Hospital Looks Forward to Christmas

It may seem a bit early to begin planning for Christmas, but not if you had to plan for over 700 people, as does Traverse City State Hospital. A great amount of time and effort in behalf of the hospital's patient population are required to insure a "Merry Christmas" for all patients. It takes time for clubs, churches, civic organizations and schools to make plans to participate in the Christmas effort at the hospital.

Additional information can be obtained by writing to Community Relations Department, Box C, Traverse City, Michigan, 49684. Gifts sent to the hospital should be addressed in the same way, and should include the name and address of the club, organization or individual.

Challenge To Be Free

MEDFORD, OREGON — "Challenge To Be Free" is an exciting new G-rated film for the entire family. It captures the excitement of the greatest chase in the history of the North.

Filmed entirely on location in temperatures as low as minus 60 degrees, it is the legend of a man that sought only to live his life apart from society. Mike Mazurki plays Trapper, a kindly, big, but gentle man. He lived with a lynx, ate with an elk and his best friend was a wolf. It was his love for animals that eventually erupted into the greatest chase in the history of the North.

The adventure is based on a true story of the longest chase in the history of the North through the most rugged terrain on the North American continent. The posse is made up of the most determined marksmen and law officials with sleds and 100 dogs in the North Country.

Sweeping photography of this beautiful land adds to the excitement that builds as Trapper, aided by his faithful wolf companion makes numerous narrow escapes. The chase and inevitable confrontation gave birth to a legend you'll never forget, about a man you'll always remember.

"Challenge To Be Free" proves that good family entertainment need not be dull. It brings real excitement to moviegoers. The legend of Trapper will thrill you as you watch a man with a determined desire to stay free with the wild animals he loves, in the land he loves and understands.

teachers, and their communities. Many of these students, those who make the best of their ability to become productive at the high intellectual levels of which they are capable, will be future leaders in business, industry, and the professions.

Semifinalists must qualify as Finalists to advance in the competition for Merit Scholarships. To become Merit Program Finalists, the Semifinalists must be endorsed by their schools and recommended for scholarship consideration, confirm their high PSAT/NMSQT scores with an equivalent performance on a second examination (the SAT), provide evidence of high academic performance, and supply information about their other accomplishments. Over 90 percent of the Semifinalists are expected to become Finalists; each Finalist will be considered for Merit Scholarships and will receive a Certificate of Merit in recognition of distinguished performance in the competition.

Every Finalist competes for one of the National Merit $1000 Scholarships, allocated on a state basis according to each state's percentage of the total U.S. graduating high school seniors. These National Merit $1000 Scholarships are one-time awards supported by business and industrial sponsors and by NMSC's own funds. Winners will receive a single payment of $1000 next fall after enrolling as a full time college undergraduate. A selection committee of experienced college admissions officers and secondary school guidance counselors will be convened to select the 1,000 winners nationwide. The Committee will judge in combination all information about each finalist—his high school academic record, accomplishments, extracurricular activities, and test scores.

Many of the finalists will also be considered for an estimated total of 2,400 four-year renewable Merit Scholarships financed by some 550 sponsors, including corporations, foundations, colleges, professional associations, unions and trusts. Winners of renewable Merit Scholarships receive up to $1,500 (or more) during each of the four college undergraduate years, depending on the award. In the nineteen annual Merit Programs completed to date, over 38,000 students have won Merit Scholarships valued at more than $104 million dollars. NMSC will release the names of Merit Scholarship winners through the news media in three public announcements in 1975: winners of corporate-sponsored four-year Merit Scholarships will be announced in April; winners of one-time National Merit $1000 Scholarships will be named April 23, the announcement of college sponsored four year Merit Scholarship winners will be made on April 30.

Increase In S.S. Checks

"Most Michigan residents who receive SSI will find an increase in their October check," according to Dale Averill, District Manager of the Traverse City Social Security Administration office. "Later in October they will receive a separate check which will cover the increase for August and September." "This increase will be $10.00 for an individual and $15.00 for a couple. This increase is automatic - no action is necessary to get the additional amount." Mr. Averill continued, "People receiving SSI are not just paid and forgotten, they have to meet specific requirements to continue to receive benefits, because SSI payments are based on a continuous need."

"SSI is funded by general revenues, not Social Security contributions," said Mr. Averill. "Even though the SSI program is run by the Social Security Administration. People who apply for SSI must also apply for any other benefits payable to them. The amount of SSI is then reduced by these other benefits for each dollar more than $20.00. Additionally, any change in income, resources, addresses, or living arrangements which might affect a payment must be reported."

Mr. Averill stressed, "SSI beneficiaries will have their cases reviewed periodically." "The Social Security Office will determine whether SSI benefits will be continued, adjusted, or stopped entirely."

He concluded, "Social Security must be sure that each person getting SSI gets all he is eligible for - no more, no less." The local Social Security Administration Office can be contacted for further information at: 1111 East Front Street, Traverse City, Michigan 49684, or call 946-8360.

J.V.'s Over St. Ignace 54-6

The Grayling J.V.'s posted their fourth straight win to remain undefeated and enjoyed their largest points scored effort with a 54-6 lashing of the St. Ignace J.V.'s.

After a scoreless first quarter, the J.V.'s rolled up 32 points before the half ended. Quarterback Alan Johnston led off the scoring with a 52 yard burst. Will Roach added the two point conversion on the ground and Grayling just kept on rolling. Roach then scored the next two times the Vikings got the ball on 6 and 75 yard runs. Grant Byce replaced Roach at tailback and scampered 10 yards for another score.

However, the first half was still alive and the J.V.'s showed what they can do with less than a minute to go.

With 58 seconds on the clock, Grayling again got the ball and marched the length of the field with receivers repeatedly going out of bounds to stop the clock after good gains. Johnston then passed to Roach for the score with 9 seconds remaining and with Grayling holding a 32-6 lead.

With the Vikings new offensive unit playing the second half, Grant Byce had a 12 yard touchdown run. Jeff Osga pounded up the middle for a 4 yard six pointer, and tailback Mike Money burst 20 yards for the final tally. The scoring was completed when Delbert Case tackled a St. Ignace back in his own endzone for a two point safety.

Defensively, Osga and Bill Dean led the tacklers. Fumble recoveries were made by Norm Theaker, Doug Sajdak, Mike Schilbe, Randy Erickson and Dean. Steve Olson, Osga, and Money intercepted Saint pass attempts.

The Viking J.V.'s travel to Rogers City today (Thursday) for a 6:30 contest and they will be in quest of their fifth straight gridiron victory.

IF IT FITZ

Jim Fitzgerald

It's for my own good

As a United States citizen, I can't understand why I don't feel better.

What I mean is, public-spirited officials are continually doing things for the good of the country. I am a part of the country, truly an average citizen (1.5 TV's, 1.2 cars and 2.5 children). I should feel fine. So how come I break out in a nervous sweat every time Eric Sevareid clenches his teeth?

Spiro Agnew was innocent and he could have proved it. He only admitted he was a crook to spare me the humiliation of watching my Vice President explain the virtues of graft to a dumb jury.

Richard Nixon didn't have to resign. In a Senate trial, he could have proven himself innocent of an impeachable offense. But he quit the highest position in the land simply so I could have a full-time President to keep an eye on the Middle East for me. He wanted to spare me the uncertainties of being led by a President who was continually summoned from summit conferences to answer burglary charges.

Gerald Ford didn't have to pardon Richard Nixon. He knew the liberals would crucify him. But Ford did it anyway, simply so I could put Watergate behind me and devote all my time to worrying about inflation. Also, he wanted to spare me the terrible trauma of possibly seeing a former President go to the pokey.

It was a good thing I had these fine men looking out for my welfare.

Fool that I was, I didn't think it would bother me to see Agnew on trial. Fact is, I was anxious to hear him explain those envelopes full of cash that people kept handing him. And I was curious to see if all nattering nabobs would be automatically excused from his jury.

Likewise, I wasn't worried about being bombed by Cambodia while President Nixon was tied up in court. I figured General Haig could handle things and, if he needed help, he could call on his brother. I was silly enough to think this country might experience a spiritual uplift under the influence of Haig & Haig. (Forgive me, but this has been a tough year).

I was even dumber about the pardon. I didn't want Watergate behind me, any more than I wanted Dan Rather out of the White House. The 6 o'clock news is dull without Ron Ziegler explaining to Rather that Nixon couldn't have lied to the American people on April 21, 1973, because all of 1973 has been declared inoperative. (Except for Christmas and the day Julie was hired by The Saturday Evening Post).

Even worse, I must admit I wasn't terribly concerned about the possibility of an ex-President going to jail if he were found guilty of a felony. Nixon always said the guilty should be punished, didn't he? They'd look up your Uncle Jake, wouldn't they? And besides, it would have been interesting to see if the warden could fit Nixon's throne through the cell door.

But I was wrong. I didn't know what was good for me—and the entire country. Agnew, Nixon and Ford did. In my own best interests, despite my ignorance, they generously spared me all those traumatic experiences. They took the divisiveness out of my future. Now I can move forward and concern myself with more important problems. For instance, how long has it been since you asked yourself whatever happened to Eddie Fisher? Think about it.

I should be grateful. I should feel good. But I feel lousy.

I guess I'm just an ingrate. The trouble is, I keep thinking of your Uncle Jake.

Driving habits a shallow base for speed law

Almost every driver in Michigan has an opinion about what the speed limit should be, which must make it one of the most controversial subjects around these days.

Col. George Halverson, who is just settling down as new commander of the Michigan State Police after his recent appointment, brought focus to the speed limit question with some rather surprising and candid remarks.

At least, I think that Col. Halverson had some surprising and candid remarks; after he caught a flak of public criticism, he sent out a new missive saying that really wasn't what he recommended at all.

But that's another story. What most people thought Col. Halverson at first was saying was that the speed limit on expressways might as well go back up to 70 miles per hour.

When the energy crisis showed up last year, Michigan—like most other states—nailed its speed limit back down to 55 miles per hour as a device to conserve energy.

Lo and behold, the energy saver had a side effect—fewer people were being killed in traffic than usual at the slower speed limit.

And as a further but less measurable side effect, more people were finding that driving at a slower rate of speed was not only safer, but was also more enjoyable. Driver after driver reported seeing things in the countryside which had been there right along but which had been zipping right past without so much as a sideways glance.

But now gasoline is plentiful again—if you can afford it. And expressway drivers notice that almost nobody is observing the 55 mile per hour speed limit any more. If you drive 55, you get left in the exhaust of almost everyone.

So into such an aura of contradiction stepped the new State Police commander with some comments of one sort or another on speed limits.

Regardless of what Col. Halverson in hindsight reports what he had in mind, people generally thought that

Col. Halverson was recommending that the speed limit be set back at 70 miles per hour—or at least at a higher figure than the oft-disregarded 55.

And the reason the colonel cited—or at least, the main reason we think he cited—was that most people were ignoring the 55 mile limit anyway, so the law should follow what the people are doing.

When you stop to think about it, this is quite an interesting philosophy of establishing law.

It would go like this:

"Every law should be set as one which people will obey. You know people will obey the law because they already are doing what the law says to do. You know the people will approve because they don't have to change their practices to coincide with the law."

I also ran into this approach to lawmaking a few years ago when I was covering an attempt by a group of parents in Grand Ledge to cut down traffic speed in front of their homes.

They argued to local and state officials that the street was unsafe at 35 miles per hour because of several close calls with what they considered speeding motorists, and pointed to the most recent accidents involving cars with kids on bicycles or pedestrians.

But the police traffic experts argued in return that the present speed must be right for that street because it was the speed which a majority of the drivers were already observing and most would drive 35 miles per hour no matter what the limit was.

The parents in this case argued loud and long about safety, and kids and caution, but to no avail. As an observer-reporter, I merely shook my head.

So I was not surprised when Col. Halverson apparently applied the same principle to expressway driving. It's the old theory of "everybody's doing it, so that makes it right."

Sorry, Colonel. I can't buy that theory.

Jack Pine's Stump

All week long I have searched my mind, my conscience and my friends for news of great significance of undying value to no avail. In other words, I have absolutely nothing to write about this week. So, in order to save space, irritate my editor and please my critics, that's exactly what I plan to do—write nothing. And that is in spite of the fact that I spent about an hour recently talking with Super-Gal Sal Truettner. Thus, my friends, that is all you're going to get this week from the empty-minded.....

torance for townships to come under the township planning act, P.A. 158, 1959. Under this act a township planning commission is created and the duties of the zoning board is then transferred to the planning commission. He feels the courts will look more favorably upon land use plans developed by a township planning commission.

Col Joe, told of assistance available from the Michigan Townships Association. The Cooperative Extension Service can also be of assistance and the Regional Commissions.

All of Crawford County is presently covered by zoning. Grayling Township has their own plan and zoning ordinance. The city of Grayling is also zoned.

Most of Roscommon County is covered by zoning by townships. The reason I have been writing about zoning recently is because there are some townships in Roscommon County that are just about ready to enact zoning. I am trying to encourage local people to support your local township and/or county with Land Use Planning and Zoning.

Volunteer Anyone?

"Help Me Read"

The Elementary School Principals' Advisory Council will be holding their monthly meeting, Thursday, October 10, 7:30 p.m. at the Grayling Elementary School.

At our May meeting, the Advisory Council began discussing the pros & cons of "All Year School." At our October 10th meeting we will be returning to that subject as requested by the council. We will also be discussing Career Education at the Elementary School level.

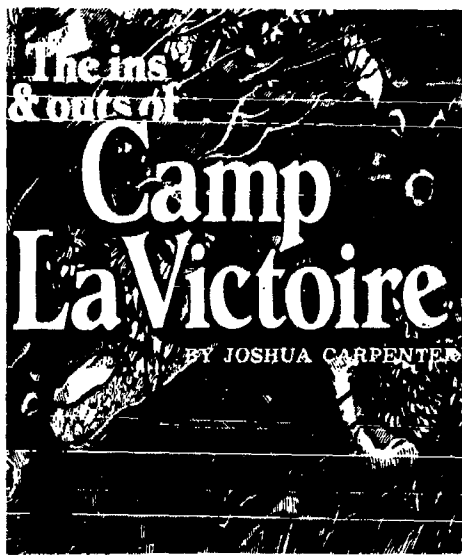

All parents of elementary school aged children are invited to attend. Other interested persons from our communities (Frederic and Grayling) are also welcome.

In last week's article we spent some time explaining the Volunteer Aide Program's structure at the Grayling Elementary School complying with the "equal time" rule we have summarized the Volunteer Aide Program going into full swing at Frederic this week.

Our Volunteer Aide Program's structure is slightly different than Grayling's. Volunteers working at Frederic service individual classrooms and teachers. Volunteers still work primarily with students with reading problems, however, they may also be asked to perform other tasks as well.

At the present time there are seven volunteers scheduled to begin helping the first week in October. Volunteers are needed for each morning except Thursday. If you live in the Frederic area and have some free time in the mornings and would also like to share the experience of helping a child, please contact Irene Pettyjohn at 348-7641.

The Avalanche—Your Want Ad Paper

Editor's Note—This column was written by a young man who will be released in a few weeks from nearby Camp LaVictoire and is being printed to help the people in the Grayling area know more about the boys of Camp LaVictoire.

To my Grayling neighbors:

I've made some mistakes with my life. In fact, several mistakes. But I think that through my time at Camp LaVictoire, I've begun to see myself and to understand that everyone makes mistakes and that it's never too late to change.

I've learned that you cannot go it alone in Camp. Because the whole Camp idea is people working with people. If you try to be a loner or go it alone, you just won't gain anything.

When I got to camp I was here for two weeks and I didn't think it was helping me, and it wasn't. I found out that you have to try to help yourself to get help. Now I've been here for about six months and I think I really went for the good. Not too long ago, I went for a home visit and my friends think I've changed for the good, too.

Our day begins by getting up at 6:30 a.m. We get dressed to be at breakfast by 7:00 a.m. At 8:00 a.m. we go out on Crew with the DNR and put in 6 hours of work, and make three dollars a day. NYC works from 8:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and makes $2 an hour.

We work at a lot of different things on Crew. During the winter we cut wood to be used for picnic tables and other uses in the parks, we help build campsites and we're even building a new house for the Park Ranger at the Rifle River Recreation Area. We've also built several DNR garages and service areas. Some of us this past week planted trees and helped move in some of the equipment at the new Camp at Howes Lake.

We got back from Crew at three o'clock and get our laundry ready by 3:45. From 3:45 until 5:00 we have a break. At 5:00 we have supper till 5:30. Then we have Store where we can buy pop and candy in Camp. After Store we have a variety of activities such as Volley Ball, Fishing, Canoeing, etc. At 8:30 we have snacks. After snacks we play cards, pool, ping pong and watch T.V. until it's time for bed at 10:00 p.m.

Some of the boys have school during the time after Crew, too, and are learning Building & Trades, Gas Station Attendant, Driver's Ed, and some are working on their GED.

I hope everyone will come out and see our new Camp at Howes Lake.

Save money this winter.

Cut your heating costs up to 17% with our official insulation program.

Last fall, at the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, Michigan Consolidated introduced a low-cost home ceiling insulation program designed to conserve Natural Gas and cut heating costs up to 17%.

How successful has the program been? Well, in the past 10 months, more than 37,700 homeowners have installed ceiling insulation and, as a result, over one billion cubic feet of Natural Gas per year is being conserved. That's enough to heat over 6,500 additional homes this winter. And, that's why we're continuing our insulation program again this fall. Because now is the time to insulate and save.

The heart of our program is simply this: Install six inches of ceiling insulation in your home. It's a quick, easy and inexpensive project that most homeowners can accomplish by themselves for about $100.

How can you get the job done? First, you can do it yourself, and we'll gladly provide a free handbook that tells you how. Secondly, you can have it done by an insulation contractor and, if you wish, we will provide you with a list of qualified firms. Or, third, we can have the job done for you through one of our participating subcontractors. The cost is often under $200 for homes with less than 1,000 square feet of ceiling area.

If you want the job done through one of our participating subcontractors, we have a payment plan to suit every budget. You can pay cash. Or, you can pay over an extended period at an interest rate of 1% monthly on the unpaid balance. (ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE OF 12%.)

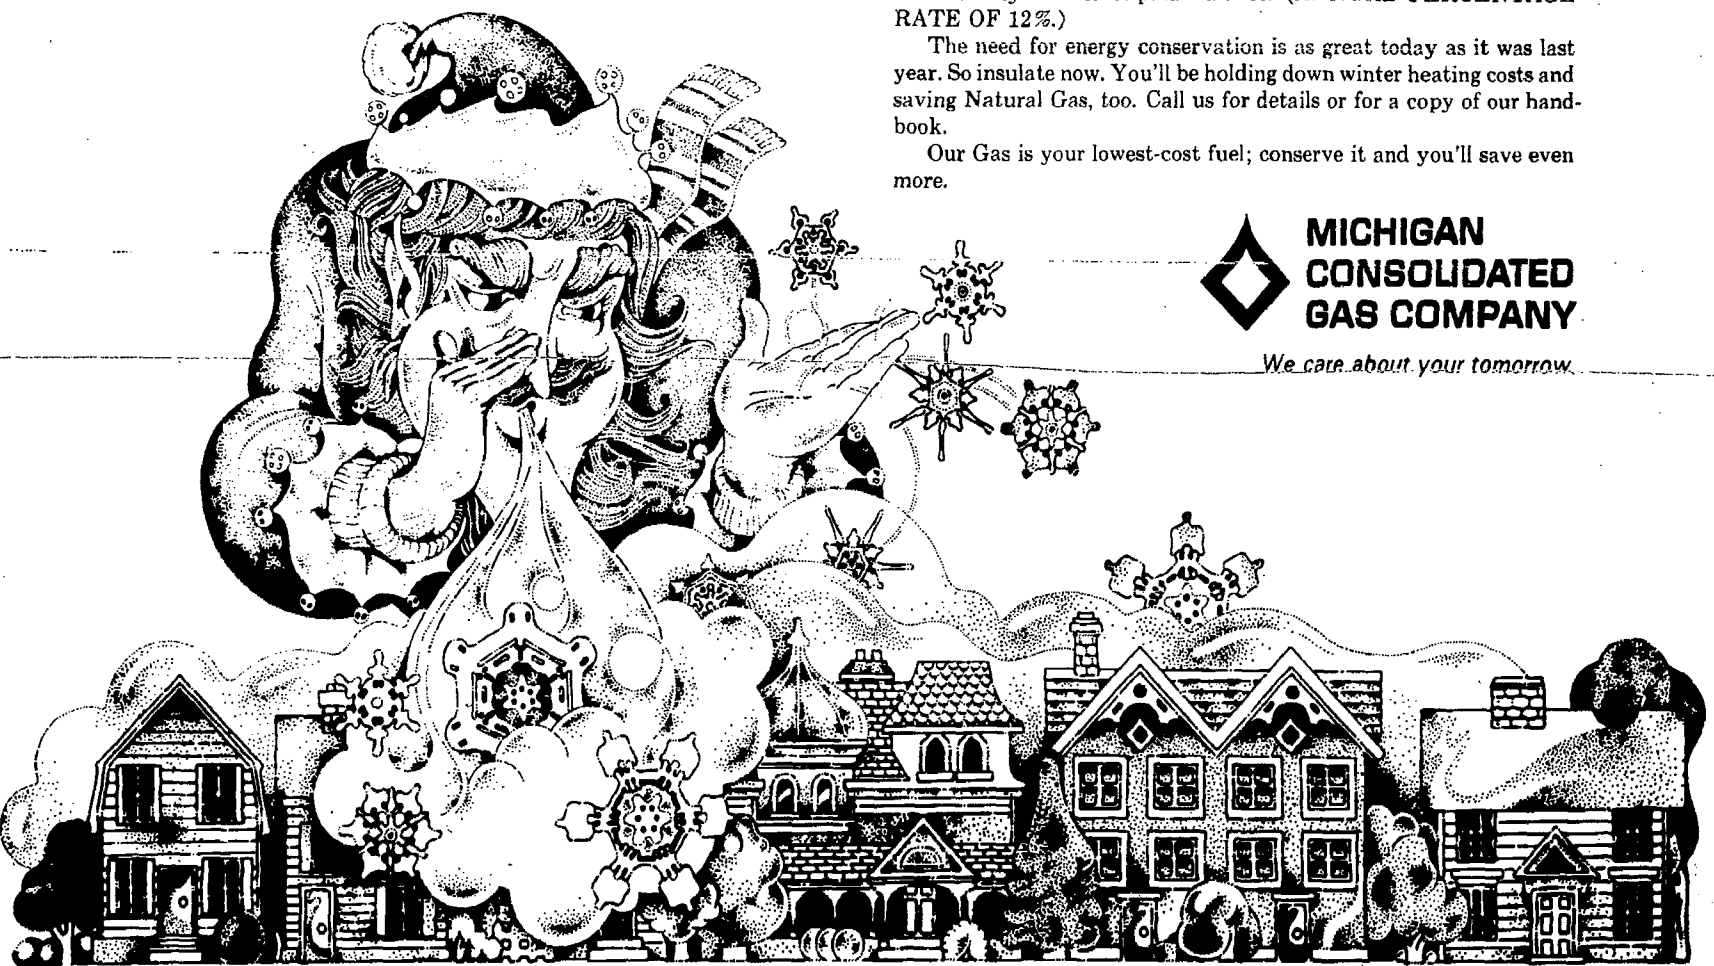

The need for energy conservation is as great today as it was last year. So insulate now. You'll be holding down winter heating costs and saving Natural Gas, too. Call us for details or for a copy of our handbook.

Our Gas is your lowest-cost fuel; conserve it and you'll save even more.

Julien-Hendershot Vows Spoken

Kathleen Julien and Mark Thane Hendershot were united in marriage Saturday, September 7th, at St. James Church in Grand Rapids. Father Porter officiated at the two o'clock ceremony for the daughter of Mrs. Edna Julien of 1518 10th St., N.W., Grand Rapids, and the late Robert Julien, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thane Hendershot of Grayling. Guitar music was featured.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Julien, wore a full length gown of ivory chiffon, featuring a high neckline, long sleeves and a train. The neck, bodice, sleeves and skirt were trimmed with lace and she wore a veil of bridal illusion and carried a bouquet of white button mums and white roses.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Linda Julien. There were also four bridesmaids, including Nancy and Mary Jo Hendershot, sisters of the groom, Barbara Coates and Jacqueline Muntanne. The attendants gowns were of apricot and they wore wide brimmed ivory straw hats and carried bouquets of blue, yellow and apricot flowers.

Shelly and Holly Julien, nieces of the bride, were the flower girls. They wore long gowns of yellow taffeta with white organza pinafores and carried baskets of apricot and yellow daisies.

Lance Hendershot served as his brother's best man. Michael Hoffman and Tom Hendershot were groomsmen. Ushers were Carl Walker and Joshua Atkins. The bride's brother, Bill Julien, and her nephew, Dan Coates were altar boys.

A reception followed for the 200 guests at the Imperial House in Grand Rapids.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Julien wore a mint green polyester full length dress with green and white bugle beads. Mrs. Hendershot chose a long gown of emerald green Quilana, styled with an empire waist and a cumberbund, for the wedding of her son. Both mothers wore corsages of yellow roses.

The bride is a graduate of Grand Rapids West Catholic High School and Grand Rapids Junior College. She is a Dental Assistant.

The groom also graduated from Grand Rapids West Catholic High School and from Grand Valley State College and Police Academy in Allendale. He received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Law Enforcement.

Following a short wedding trip to Chicago, the newlyweds are making their home in Allegan, where the groom is employed with the Police Department.

Guests attending from out of town included Wayne, Muskegon and Grayling. Jerrie and Bill Hoffman of Grayling were master and mistress of ceremonies.

your week ahead by DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period: October 6 to October 12

ARIES
Mar. 21 - Apr. 19
This week, intuition and common sense will work together — hand in hand! So, it's not likely that you'll blunder, during your daily routine.

TAURUS
Apr. 20 - May 20
It seems as though a friend will tell you something that you're not supposed to hear. Anyway, this week brings news that should be given your undivided attention.

GEMINI
May 21 - June 20
Try to avoid the mainstream of social activity. Actually, it's not a favorable time for you to deal with the general public. Just make it through the week!

MOONCHILD
June 21 - July 22
This week, you'll step out of character; your attitude will throw a chronic complainer off balance. According to your chart, you'll be in the mood to put several persons in their place.

LEO
July 23 - Aug. 22
Put wishful thinking where it belongs, and don't be led down any garden path by a fast talker that wants to give you the whole world.

VIRGO
Aug. 23 - Sept. 32
It seems as though an associate will hit the formula that will please you. In other words, it's an ideal time to reach your goal through teamwork.

LIBRA
Sept. 23 - Oct. 22
Your chart holds a surprising twist. An event that is usually looked upon as being unfortunate... will, in fact, turn into a good thing.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23 - Nov. 21
You'll make up a minor setback by throwing yourself into your work and meeting things "one to one." Bluntly, it's not a good time to cast too many irons on the fire.

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22 - Dec. 21
It would be a good idea to placate. In other words, settle for half if you can't get the whole. The keyword, this week, is compromise.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22 - Jan. 19
Those under your sign, unattached, can look forward to a new venture with the opposite sex. Other Capricorns, face a week of interruptions, especially with their scheduled appointments.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20 - Feb. 18
You are nearing a critical period. Meaning? Problems that have long been shelved, must be resolved this week. Postponements, at this time, will snowball to a major reversal.

PISCES
Feb. 19 - Mar. 20
Knowing how to separate fact from fiction, sorry to say, is not one of your strong points, this week. It would be a good idea to avoid any oral contracts.

Stop... and look

A child is born with imagination, with the ability to see the magic of the world around him. Yet so much creativity—so much "seeing"—is often lost as we grow older and the complexities of life sweep over us.

When a child confronts nature, he isn't in a hurry. He takes time to study each blade of grass, to appreciate the colors of a butterfly, to marvel at a flower or the soft fur of a kitten.

We shouldn't lose this sensibility as we grow up. God created the world, but man has often abused it. So stop—once in awhile—and look, feel and listen. This is communion, restoration... like the spirit you find in church.

Have you been there lately?

ELECTOR UNABLE TO MAKE PERSONAL APPLICATION PROCEDURE

SEC. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the township, city or village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the clerk of the township, city or village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths and returning such registration cards to the clerk of the township, city or village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

Unregistered Persons Not Entitled to Vote

SEC. 481. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote (As provided under Act. 116, P.A. 1954).

SEC. 506. Any registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village, cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request, stating his present address, the date he moved thereto, and the address from which he was last registered or by applying in person for a transfer. The application for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk, who shall transfer such voter's registration in accordance with the application.
